Mike Turlock Beaten Up.

Charging that he had been attacked and robbed of $75 while riding in a taxi from Edmonton to Spruce Grove, at about Saturday midnight, Mike Turlock was picked up near collapse in front of Dave Bell's garage. Mike was later taken to an Edmonton hospital, says the Edmonton Bulletin.

Mike relates that he walked into a Jasper avenue taxi office and asked for a car to take him out to the Grove. While in this office he met two strangers and asked them to come along. It is claimed that Mike fell asleep in the taxi while speeding west, and woke suddenly when his two companions started to go thru his pockets.

When he protested, Mike says the two men beat him, threw him out of the car, and then headed back to Edmonton with the car. Turlock is said to have been suffering from wounds on his head.

Mr Turlock is well known in Stony Plain, having resided here about three years ago; previous to which he ran a hotel at Opa.

Why France Is Economically Strong

Trying to ferret out the reason why France, of all the major nations, has no unemployment, but rather is importing 3,000,000 tons of wheat, her fields, mines and factories, Freeman Thorden writes in the World's Work on "Why France is the Top-Dog."

All the chimneys of French factories are smoking. Portuguese workers have been imported in droves to supply the shortage of labor. Italians armed with picks and shovels follow Napoleon's trail over the Alps, in reverse order. Three hundred thousand Poles were given jobs last year. There are no doles, no Communist, no bread lines.

The findings run something as follows: Frenchmen are born marketers. They waste nothing. They know how to stretch French paper to make the two ends meet. Nothing is wasted.

Nor does this mean they have poor food. They furnish the chefs of the world. They do not dress shabbily. They dress the world. But they dress themselves first.

They buy for cash. They pay down in full for real estate. Not many know what call money is. Margins are on printed pages only. High-powered salesmen are an American institution. French cars seldom wear out carrying heavy mortgages around. Every large business concern has its economist. Employees get good meals at cost. The economists purchase at wholesale prices. Railway employees even get their coal and household supplies for a third what others pay outside of the economist. Companies do not exploit or commercialize their help.

The Frenchman hardly knows what a robot is. Almost everything is hand made. A country that is many times smaller than any one of our Western Provinces supports its millions by managing its individual affairs well. Thus the under-dog has become top-dog.

In there not in the French situation as thus disclosed a suggestion of value worthy of the thoughtful consideration of the producers and workers of other countries?

Here in America, in Canada as well as in the United States, every encouragement, indeed the most striking inducements, are held out to people in all walks of life to buy on the installment plan, rather than for cash. The use of credit has become almost universal, not only for capital expenditures which is justifiable and proper if the borrowings are for kept within reason, and the capital expenditures to which they are devoted are of a revenue-producing character, but for current expenses. People are urged to buy not only necessities but luxuries on the credit plan, with payments spread over a term of months, or even years. The argument advanced is frequently to enjoy these luxuries now and while you are paying for them, rather than to wait until you have saved sufficiently to pay for them outright. It is a fallacious argument, a fatal mistake to make.

Complaints are fairly general that the banks will not extend credit at the present time. Possibly, however, the mistake by the banks in the past is that they extended too much credit too easily, coupled with the further mistake that they demanded too high a rate of interest and thus make it next to impossible for the borrower to ever get out of debt once he is landed in that position. Many a man, both city residents and farmers, have told the writer that having got into debt to the banks or mortgage companies they had a long uphill struggle to get out. They found themselves working for these financial corporations to meet interest charges rather than for themselves. They vowed that once they got out of debt, they would never get again, but rather would do without things until they could pay for them outright, tighten their belt if necessary, and carry on in the meantime.

It is the man who is carrying a load of debt, paying heavy interest charges annually, possibly on no-revenue producing expenditures made in the past, who finds himself in real difficulty in times of business depression. Any little cash he can get must be paid out again to keep himself solvent instead of being available to carry him along until the tide turns again. But the man who has followed the policy of "pay as you go," who is free of debt, is the man who can most easily weather the storm. Such a man can "carry on," but the man already heavily in debt finds himself in the predicament of going in still deeper, and the final result is, all too frequently, that he finds himself in an impossible position, so deep in fact that he can never get out.

Is the French way not the better way? Does it not make for greater contentment, a more consistent measure of good times, a more enjoyable, happier existence?

Should Look After Himself

End Of Communism

McGill Economist Sees Soviet Despotism Felled By Human Nature

"Russia is going to break, Communism will prove unavailing, the five-year-plan is doomed to failure, and the greatest despotism and tyranny that the world has ever seen will be felled by human nature," declared Dr. Stephen Leacock, head of the department of political economy of McGill University, addressing the junior board of trade of Montreal recently on Communism.

The professor issued a warning that police batons were not the correct means of destroying Communism in Canada. "The needs of the people which lead them to seek after anything new must be satisfied as the first and only step required to do away with this evil," he said, referring to Communism in this country.

What was going to happen to Canada and other parts of the western world before Russia's five-year-plan failed, Dr. Leacock asked. "Are we going to sit back and condemn Communism and do nothing to cure the evils of present-day civilization? Are we to permit Russia to set us and the rest of the world an example in energy and determination in the exploitation of their country?"

Military Medal Law Revised

Holders Of V.C. Cannot Be Automatically Deprived Of Decoration

Holders of the celebrated Victoria Cross, highest award for gallantry in Britain's army, will not, in the future, be automatically deprived of the medal if convicted of "treason, cowardice, felony or any other infamous crime," as has been the case in the past.

This important change is one of the new provisions governing military medals announced in the London Gazette. It is stipulated, however, that the award of the V.C. may be cancelled by the King, who may also restore the decoration, if and when, the recommendation for annulment is withdrawn.

Scotland Boosting Aviation

Dundee, Scotland, recently held an informal jollification over the first business transaction carried out there by aeroplane. A business man had flown from Glasgow, landed in a field near Dundee, completed his deal and within an hour was on his way back by air. As a result of the visit, Dundee is joining the movement to provide an airport for every city in Scotland.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds; those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not exterminated with worm medicine, both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Half and Half

A lady much above the usual size was trying to enter a street car. A passenger, who was waiting to get off, began to laugh at her futile efforts.

"If you were half a man, you'd be on this street car," snapt the fat lady.

The passenger retorted, "Madam, if you were half a lady, you wouldn't need any help."

Proposes New Study For Canadian Schools

First-Aid and Home Nursing Useful Subjects, Says Colonel Hodgetts

First aid and home nursing should be made subjects in public schools, declared Col. C. A. Hodgetts, director-general of the St. John Ambulance Association, at the annual meeting of the organization in Ottawa. This type of training would, he said, be more useful than "some of the twaddle" now being taught.

The year 1930 was described as surpassing all other years in the history of the association. In the various courses, 23,888 persons took part and proficiency certificates were awarded in 12,805 cases. Certificates and awards had a grand total of 19,748. The annual report was presented by Hon. J. H. King, president.

Millikan has previously stated, the institute does not profess to have discovered a new cure for cancer; the principal hope is, that if results are favorable, other tubes of similar type will be placed in operation in hospitals in other sections of the United States."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 5

EASTER LESSON: THE RESURRECTION

Golden Text: "Now, hath Christ raised from the dead, the first-fruits of them that are asleep."—1 Corinthians 15:20.

Lesson: 1 Corinthians 15:1-8, 50-58.

Explanations and Comments

The Resurrection of Christ the Most Vital of All the Doctrines of the Christian Faith, verses 1-4.—Paul reminds his readers, the Corinthians, of his teaching during his work among them, of the gospel, the good news, which they heard from him, on which their faith was grounded, by which they were saved, that is, "in the way of salvation, by faith in the crucified and risen Saviour." If they held fast to the word; he had declared it unto them, and had not believed in vain, "without consideration, so without stability." "Unless, indeed, your faith was all hazardous," is Moffatt's translation. Paul's sentences are usually very involved; the next four verses form one sentence. First of all, as the most important of all the good things which I declared unto you, he writes, I told you that which I also had told you to those for whose sakes, in fulfilment of the Scriptures; that He was buried and was raised on the third day.

"O vanquished grave of Jesus whose chill could work no change upon His heart!"

O deep, deep grave of Jesus whose depths can hide a whole world's sin!

O glorious grave of Jesus through whose gloom lies the pathway to Immortal Life!"

—Ralph Connor.

The Evidence For the Resurrection, verses 5-8.—Here follows the oldest account of the appearances of the risen Christ. He appeared to Peter; then to the Twelve (Paul keeps the symbolical number, though Judas was dead and Thomas was not present at the first appearance); then to more than five hundred at once (probably on the mountain in Galilee, Matthew 28:16, 17), the greater number of whom are still alive—and you can hear their direct testimony, if you wish, in the inference—but some are fallen asleep—(twenty-five years, at least, had passed since the resurrection of Christ); then He appeared to James (the brother of Jesus, Acts 15:13; Galatians 1:19); then last of all, as to a child untimely born, He appeared to Paul also (Acts 9).

The Resurrection Of the Dead, verses 50-58.—Human nature in its habitat of flesh and blood cannot take position of the Kingdom of God; nor does corruption take position of incorruption. The argument is that such a spiritual body as he has been speaking of is absolutely necessary in the Kingdom of God. Behold, I tell you a mystery: some will be living at the last trump (1 Thessalonians 4:16; Matthew 24:31; Revelation 11:15), when Christ shall come again, and they will be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet-call; the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. Paul hoped for the return of Christ during his own lifetime.

When this has taken place, when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, when the glorious body is received, then will the resurrection triumph over sin and death, they shall be no more, and law shall be no more, for it will not be necessary. Thanks be to God who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. "The victory is ours, thank God! He makes it ours by our Lord Jesus Christ." Moffatt's translation.

Wherefore, let us be steadfast, unmovable, persevering in the work of the Lord, for we know that it will not be thrown away.

Acquire Velocity Quickly

Bodies Falling Through Air Move At Rapid Rate

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Freight By Air

Freight by air is becoming an important factor of aviation in England. Nearly 2,000 tons of bulky articles were carried from Croydon aerodrome last year. These ranged from a lion in a cage to a consignment of several hundred pounds of gold.

Mid-Summer Cruise

All Europe Cruise Of the Cunarder "Lancastria" Offers Wonderful Opportunity

An important and unusually interesting mid-summer cruise to all Europe, sailing in the Cunarder "Lancastria" from New York on June 30th next, has just been announced by the Cunard Line, and Frank Tourist Company, joint sponsors of this new cruise.

The itinerary of the "All Europe" cruise reaches from the sunny shores of the Mediterranean to the beautiful fjords of Norway, at its best and most beautiful at that time of the year.

Every country in western Europe with the exception of land-locked Switzerland will be visited by the "Lancastria" in 51-days of her "All Europe" cruise. Among the striking points in the plans for this cruise are included an excursion to Rome at no extra cost, a trip on the big Cunarder through the Kiel Canal which presents magnificent scenery on every hand, and a call at Copenhagen, the attractive and sophisticated capital of Denmark.

Liberal time at many places visited will permit not only of an unusually comprehensive programme of shore excursions without extra cost, but also a number of inland trips for those who wish to amplify or extend their visit, and will appeal greatly to the many Canadians who will be making the cruise.

To have the children sound and healthy is the first care of a mother. They cannot be healthy if troubled with worms. Use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

A New Stainless Steel

Stainless steel as used for cutlery is difficult to work and cannot be used for making other domestic articles. Now, it is said, another form of stainless steel has been discovered which can be used in the place of brass, copper, and chromium-plated metals for such articles as bathroom and door fittings.

The Best Of Luck

American Soldier Receives Fortune From Father Of Frenchman He Befriended

The best of luck, which soldiers used often to wish one another in the Great War, has befallen one of them who helped another when his luck was out. The luckless one was a French poilu who had been severely wounded in the last great move in 1918. An American doughboy brought him out of danger, bandaged him, exchanged cards with him, and wished him the best of luck. The American boy never expected to hear from him again. But he has just received a letter from Paris to say that the young Frenchman's father has left him $60,000 in his will. One American, at any rate, had the best of luck in the war.

A Hazardous Calling

Many Movie Actors Lose Lives In Making Pictures

Packing thrills and realism into the movies is fraught with deaths and accidents often as tragic and thrilling as the scenes depicted. During the last five years, fifty-five actors, extras and studio workmen have lost their lives in making pictures, and scores of others received permanent or temporary injuries in the effort to provide "hair-raising" for movie fans. In addition, the California state industrial accident commission paid out $421,850 to members of the motion-picture industry for deaths and accidents arising in the course of employment.

Powerful Medicine—The healing properties in six essential oils are concentrated in every bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, forming one of the most beneficial liniments ever offered to the use of man. Many can testify as to its power in alleviating pain, and many more can certify that they owe their health to it. Its wonderful power is not expressed by the small price at which it sells.

Canada's Poultry Industry

Phase Of Agricultural Activity That Is Rapidly Forging Ahead

Canada's poultry industry is one of the phases of agricultural activity which is forging steadily ahead. The poultry population of hens and chickens for 1930, numbered 56,247,000. This represents an increase of one million birds over 1929, and is in marked contrast with the total of 12,696,701 of 1891. Present indications are that Canada's poultry population for the present year will be practically five times what it was forty years ago.

Trading In Ivory

Tons Recently Bought In London, England, At Special Sale

Nearly forty tons of elephant ivory from Africa and Asia were sold recently at a special sale at Mincing Lane, London, England. Over seven hundred elephants contributed to this collection of tusks, which was valued at many thousands of pounds. The average tusk of an elephant is under fifty pounds in weight, and is worth about $150. London is recognized as the headquarters of the ivory trade, although of late years Antwerp has become an important centre for African ivory. Sales take place in Mincing Lane quarterly, and hundreds of manufacturers gather for it. Sales also take place in Liverpool.

Rubber Wheels For Dining Cars

The possibility of rubber dining car wheels is being studied in France by representatives of the principal French roads. Experiments are being conducted on a branch line to St. Florent. Gasoline-driven engines with rubber tires have been operating for several months, and experts believe that their adaptation for passenger cars also will lessen noise, shocks, and deterioration of the rails.

SIR JOSIAH STAMP APPOINTED HEAD OF GRAIN INQUIRY

Ottawa, Ont.—One of Britain's leading economic experts, Sir Josiah Stamp, was recently named as head of the royal commission to inquire into grain trading in Canada. Premier R. B. Bennett told members of the House of Commons that Sir Josiah will sail this week for Canada.

It was known that the British economist had been invited to represent the Dominion Government, but the recent announcement carried the intimation that he had accepted the post. The royal commission is to consist of three members, one of whom will represent the Grain Exchange and another is to be chosen by the prairie provinces to represent the farmers.

Bennett has associated the name of Premier J. E. Brownlee with the position of grain growers' representative, but Mr. Brownlee has denied that he would accept the post.

Sir Josiah Stamp has for many years been regarded as an outstanding expert in financial matters. He has had a distinguished academic career and has frequently represented the British Government on financial commissions. In 1919 he was member of the British royal commission on income tax. In 1924 he was member of the committee on taxes and national debt, and in the same year was British representative on the Canadian taxation commission. His most recent task has been to seek means of accomplishing economic co-ordination of British railways.

Appointment of the royal commission has followed expressions of opinion in Western Canada that trading in grain futures is detrimental to the best interests of the producers.

Present indications are that work of the commission will be confined to an investigation of this subject, although it appears possible the scope of the inquiry may be extended to include whole questions of marketing of the wheat crop.

Would Repeal Dry Law

Illinois Senate Passes Bill Repealing

Springfield, Ill.—The Illinois Senate recently passed the bill repealing the state's prohibition enforcement laws. The measure, already passed by the House, now goes to the governor. The vote was 26 to 24.

The bill would repeal the state prohibition law under the Search and Seizure Act. In effect, it would withdraw all state support from the Federal Government in fighting illicit manufacture and traffic in intoxicating liquor.

Well-To-Do Farmers

Toronto, Ont.—The well-to-do middle class farmer had by no means disappeared. Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture in Alberta, told a meeting of advertisers and salesmen here when discussing farming conditions in western Canada. He believed that present difficulties would be overcome by the farmers. Generous loans to farmers by bankers at low rates of interest were a necessity, however, he said.

Drill For Oil

Winnipeg, Man.—It is understood here that an oil company, name unknown, will expend $250,000 in testing property in the town of St. Boniface, adjacent to Winnipeg, to ascertain if oil exists in the district. It was reported that a 60-day option has been let by the St. Boniface council on a block of 14 acres at a price of $2,000 an acre.

Wolves Terrorize Settlers

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.—Wolves in large packs, coming down from the hills in Moravia township, east of the city, are becoming such a menace around the scattered settlements that bushmen and others no longer go into the woods except in numbers, according to word received here recently.

Disorders In India

Cawnpore Troops Shoot Down 30
Rioting Nationalists

Karachi, India.—Tumult broke out again in India as Mahatma Gandhi, here for the Nationalist congress meeting, was jeered by Communists, and troops at Cawnpore shot down at least 30 rioting Nationalists.

The disorders grew out of the execution last week of three Indians convicted of the murder of a 21-year-old police official in 1928. Gandhi was taken off a train 12 miles outside of the town, but the thousands gathered here for the congress meeting spotted him as he rode into town in an automobile.

A group of 30 or more, known to be of Communist leaning, made for him with jeers and one even made as though to attack the frail little man with a flag staff. Some carried a tray with a gruesome mess of mud and blood.

"Here is the blood of our brothers who were murdered," they cried, referring to the three executed Indians. "Take it back with your true to India."

Gandhi's men drove off the assailants, and there were cheers for Mahatma. The day at Cawnpore was even more serious. Rioting began during the night when Moslem shopkeepers refused to close their stores under a general strike order by the congress men. Troops came out when the fighting got serious, and before the worst was over, 30 had been killed, and at least 100 injured.

This trouble too, grew out of the executions.

To Dispose Of Wheat

Senator Borah Would Donate Surplus
Wheat In United States To China

Washington, D.C.—Old suggestion that the surplus wheat held by the National Grain Stabilization Corporation, amounting to over 200,000,000 bushels, should be turned over to China, was made by Senator William E. Borah.

Such action would require an act of congress. Wheat held by the corporation has been bought and sold, and the policy of the Farm Board is that it shall not be given away.

Borah's idea was that a gift of the wheat to China would create an appetite for wheat bread among the 400,000,000 Chinese. Such a result in largely increasing the market for wheat in that country.

Will Entertain Governor-General

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's new governor-general—the Earl of Bessborough—will be the guest of honor on April 8, at a dinner tendered by Premier R. B. Bennett. Members of the government, the leader of the opposition, and members of the privy council will attend the function.

Honored By King

London, England.—The King invited the Earl of Bessborough, governor-general designate of Canada, with the insignia of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George. Lord and Lady Bessborough had luncheon with Their Majesties after the ceremony of investiture.

No Aid For Germany

Paris, France.—Denunciation of the commercial treaty with Germany and a decision to abstain from all financial aid constitutes the possible policy of France toward Germany if she persists in carrying out an economic pact with Austria, the Associated Press was informed in official quarters.

No Change In Construction Program

Prince Albert, Sask.—There will be no change in the $3,000,000 construction plans of the Canadian Pacific Railway in northern Saskatchewan, it was emphatically declared here by D. C. Coleman, Winnipeg, vice-president western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Less Unemployed

London, England.—The number of unemployed persons in Great Britain on March 16, was announced by the government recently, as 2,639,633, a decrease of 52,104 under the previous month. The total figure is 1,017,875, more than at the same time last year.

May Increase Postal Rates On Newspapers

To Help Lower Deficit Of Post Office
Department

Ottawa, Ont.—Voicing a protest against the projected increase of postal charges on second class mail matter, a delegation of over 20 members of the Canadian National Newspapers and Periodicals Association conferred here with Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general.

The government has had before it for some time the proposal to increase the mail rates on second class mail matter, under which category are included newspapers and periodicals. For the current fiscal year the deficit of the post office department will likely range between five and six million dollars, and the proposal to raise the rate on newspapers has been advanced in an effort to overcome some of that deficit.

Rioting In Madrid

Madrid, Spain.—Fying the red flag of the rebellion, students clashed with police at the San Carlos medical school, resulting in the death of two persons and serious injury to 14. The disorders had their origin in the refusal of authorities to allow the students to parade in behalf of amnesty for political prisoners.

Temperance Forces Defeated

London, England.—Rallying after their recent defeat in attempting to introduce prohibition into Great Britain by act of Parliament, the temperance forces sought to curtail liquor advertising which flares over town and country throughout the Isles, but the House of Commons rejected the move by a vote of 127 to 112.

Tourist Traffic Slightly Less

But Figures For 1929 Place Value At $280,000,000

Ottawa, Ont.—Despite falling off from 1929 tourist traffic still remains a decidedly profitable source of income in Canada. Figures for 1929, estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, place the value of tourist traffic at $280,000,000. This substantial figure, in the face of far-flung economic depression, was only $28,000,000 less than 1929.

Automobile tourists from the United States increased in number, but apparently did not spend as much money. The estimated expenditure was $202,400,000 as compared with $215,577,000 in 1929. The conclusion reached by the mathematicians at the Bureau of Statistics is that the relative cheapness of a motor trip through Canadian highways had appeal for those who in more prosperous times might have been inquisitive about the beauty of Monte Carlo. Total tourists from the United States numbered 5,400,000 as against 4,508,000.

Canadian tourists abroad also were watching the pocketbooks. Automobiles carried tourists to the United States who parted with $63,489,000, according to the estimate. This compared with 65,055,000 in the previous year. Total expenditures abroad of all Canadians in places at $113,000,000 as against $122,000,000 in the year of booming stock quotations.

Must Serve Sentence

Sixteen-Year-Old Farm Boy Falls In Appeal To Higher Court

Toronto, Ont.—Robert Kitowski, 16-year-old farm boy, must serve his sentence of five years at the Stony Mountain penitentiary and receive 20 lashes as imposed by Magistrate Cruickshank on the holding-up and robbing of the Dominion Bank at Fort Frances, on February 11 last. This was the decision of the First Appellate Court of Ontario, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, following an earnest plea for "a more humane punishment" from A. MacDonald, counsel for the young prisoner.

Youthfulness of the prisoner which brought forth a "popular clamor" following the sentence, did not appeal to the first divisional court, the chief justice, Sir William Mulock, declared in announcing their judgment.

Followed Nurse Cavell

Brussels, Belgium.—It was belatedly learned here that Miss Anne Scott-James, 56, who gained fame as a nurse in the Great War, died March 21. Miss Scott-James assumed the mantle of the English nurse, Edith Cavell, shot as a spy by the Germans during the war. Following Miss Cavell's execution, she assisted Allied soldiers to cross the Dutch frontier.

No Samples Yet

Edmonton, Alberta.—Not a single ounce of platinum has been received yet for test purposes," declared Dr. J. A. Allan, head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, when asked regarding reports of a strike at Obed, on the C.N.R., west of Edson.

MELODY MIKE FAN MAIL

From the far northern prairies, from city, town, village, isolated farm house; right across the Dominion from Halifax to Victoria, letters are pouring into Canadian Pacific Railway radio office, at Montreal, from admirers of the genial old soul who sends out his messages of goodwill and kindly humor every Monday night. In one day in March, no less than 1,381 such letters were received and from 15,000 in a month, the figure has risen to close on 40,000. Photograph shows a portion of the radio department staff dealing with this huge fan mail as it comes in each day. The Melody Mike feature is declared by competent judges to be one of the most popular radio offerings on the continent.

MANITOBA POOL ELEVATOR PROBE IS UNDER WAY

Winnipeg, Man.—Surrounded by prominent counsel, including T. J. Murray, K.C., authority on the legal aspects of co-operative marketing, E. K. Williams, K.C., commenced a royal commission investigation into the operations of the Manitoba Pool Elevators Limited.

Procedure to be adopted in presentation of evidence has been settled. Commissioner Williams gave a compromise ruling which will permit Pool counsel to present documentary evidence, and, in special cases, evidence of company officers in explanation of financial reports submitted.

It had been the intention of Mr. Murray and his associate counsel, Travers Sweetman, K.C., to present oral testimony on each document submitted, but this was objected to by A. B. Hudson, K.C., representing James R. Murray, Winnipeg grain authority, whose charges made to Premier John Bracken brought about the appointment of the commissioner.

Under the compromise ruling, agreed to by all counsel, the Pool elevators will file documents, and opposing counsel will be permitted immediate cross-examination of witnesses. The same ruling will apply when witnesses for Mr. Murray testify on the filing of documentary evidence.

Mr. Murray, who charged extravagance in the operation of pool elevators, and under-grading to the detriment of the farmer shareholders, was in attendance at the sessions.

In the country there are 11,000 farmer shareholders, operating 156 country elevators, who are vitally interested in the probe, which is expected to last at least three weeks.

Both sides made clear that "a complete picture" of the pool elevators operations must be presented. Mr. Murray, senior counsel for the pool, feared it was the intention of Mr. Hudson to call officers and employees of the elevators only to substantiate the charges, and not to bring out the complete facts relevant to the whole case.

A wrong impression might be created with the examination of only one document or witness, said Mr. Murray. Incomplete examination might at least cause suspicion, and with keen rivalry existing between pool and non-pool elevator agents, lead to the circulation of propaganda calculated to break the confidence of shareholders.

"The shareholders are the life blood of the Pool Elevators, Limited," he said. "It must be maintained."

J. T. Thorson, K.C., associated with Mr. Hudson, declared it was not intended to create any unnecessary disturbance in the minds of shareholders. Everything must be presented in detail, not summaries, and not piecemeal.

Champion Stallions Are Named

Regina, Sask.—Three grand champion stallions were named at the Regina Winter Fair. These were: Clydesdale, "Lochinar," owned by John Falconer, of Govan, Sask.; Percherons, "Colmar," owned by C. M. Rear, of Regina, Sask.; Belgians, "Goliath," owned by C. M. Rear.

The reserve championship in Clydesdale stallions went to H. Black, of Belle Plaine, with "Caradoc Footprint"; in Percherons, to C. M. Rear, with "Rainy River Charlie"; and in Belgians, to R. Thomas, of Grands, with "Fargueville."

R. Thomas was adjudged to have the best gelding in the show with a Clydesdale, winning over a Percheron, owned by H. Black.

Child Has Narrow Escape

Welland, Ont.—A 45-cent bullet, fired up into the air by an unknown person, dropped through the roof of a house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Florian Oberky, pierced the bedroom ceiling and landed on the blanket of the baby's crib. The bullet missed the child by inches.

INDIGESTION

Banished by Kruschen

"I suffered for some years from a bad stomach. I used to feel very miserable after meals. The doctor advised me to take Epsom Salts, but it did me no good. I decided to try Kruschen and am now taking it, and have done for the past 12 months, and I am very glad to tell you that my stomach is now in perfect order. I feel as young in spirit as I was 20 years ago, thanks to Kruschen." (W.B.) You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric—or digestive—juices fail to flow. What you need is a tonic—Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts.

You get all these six salts in Kruschen. The first effect of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. Again, in the intestinal tract, certain of these salts promote a further flow of these vital juices which deal with partly digested food and prepare it finally for absorption into the system.

FREE TRIAL OFFER

If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove out this tonic. CHAPTER XIII. Continued.

She stooped, motherwise, dropping a kiss on Martha's faxen head. "Thank you," said Mr. Halliday, wearily. "Thank you for that, and everything."

Then he, too, stooped above the child.

"I'm going to leave you here to play with Nick and Sonny, little girl. I'll come back soon."

She lifted a tear-stained face and would have clung to him had not Gay called her attention to the tower the boys were building.

"I'll show you how, little Marfa," said Sonny with importance. "I'll make a house 'most big enough for you to live in."

"Oh now," Gay whispered, seeing that the child was occupied; and Halliday turned away.

He went straight to Angela's room. She stood almost where he had left

Before Her Baby Came

"I have used several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it helps me wonderfully, especially before childbirth. I have five lovely children. After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. I work outside during the fruit season in addition to my housework."—Mrs. Charles Slingerland, R.R. #4, St. Catharines, Ontario.

her, and, closing the door, he faced her sternly.

"Angela," he began, "there are guests in the house, and I cannot say what I would say otherwise. There must be no scene; but once before I warned you to curb your temper. Do you remember why?"

"She shrank from him, but he followed her relentlessly, and though she tried to look away the cold gleam of his grey eyes held her own while one might have counted ten. Then through the open window was wafted the sound of childish laughter—the tension of those clashing glances broke, and the woman regained her poise.

"Aren't you a trifle melodramatic, my dear husband?" she asked, shrugging. "After all, it was only a cat."

"Next time it may be a child," he replied sternly, and left the room.

CHAPTER XIV.

Angela's guests stayed but a short time, though, little Martha once disposed of, James Halliday tried to get to be agreeable, and make them forget the awkward moment of their arrival. He even suggested a small dinner to which their next door neighbors were invited, and at which Gay appeared in a charming, sea-green gown that caused her hostess to stare almost rudely in surprise.

Angela thought she had taken Gay's measure when she described her "cat," doubly little thing next door. Now, watching Halliday's interested face as he talked with their surprisedly appalled guest, she wondered if by any chance she had been mistaken. Since the days of her own courtship she had never seen her husband treat a woman just that way. The sight plucked her—not because she had any romantic feeling left for Halliday, but because she had thought him incapable of being so interested. There might come a time, she thought vindictively, when the knowledge of that interest would be a deadly weapon in her own hand. The thought brightened her eyes, making them even more blue and luminous than before. Her husband saw it, and wondered wearily, what was a woman like was breathing for himself; yet later, when in the cool of the dimly lighted living-room, Angela sang, her voice might have been part of some celestial choir.

"How gloriously that woman sings!" said Nick, when he and Gay made their way home together across the garden. "She seems to forget everything, and everybody, and give herself up to the expression of her real self. It's as if it were all her own—muscles and words, and her lively way of giving them life. I felt like a fool when she made me try that duet with my dear."

"You needn't have. Your voice isn't trained like hers, but at least it's sincere."

"Sincere? What do you mean?" Gay drew a quick breath.

"You wouldn't understand if I told you."

"Why not? Am I really so dense as that?"

"Not in everything, Nick."

"Thanks," Nick laughed, and as they reached the porch, sat down in the hammock and drew her down beside him. "Let's stay here a while and enjoy the moonlight. I don't like those asperations on my mentality. Why should my singing be more sincere than Mrs. Halliday's?"

Gay was thoughtful for a moment before she answered: "I can't help feeling that she's playing a part, Nick; and somehow I don't care for her friends."

"They're not exactly our sort—a bit biased and world-weary, perhaps, though the woman had one lucid interval when she told me about her little girl. They must meet her Halliday to drink. He may be a cynic, but he has brains in his head. Still, I think you're unjust to the fair Angela. I bet those things Julie told you have stuck in your crop. Say, Gay, I think you've made an impression on Halliday! He acted so tremendously interested in you tonight."

"What an idiotic thing to say!"

"If you're, not careful, Madam," Nick retorted. "I shall sue you for slander. That's the second insult you've handed me in five minutes. Besides, he had been the idiotic one if he hadn't noticed you. You had those other women looking like tinsel in a jewelry shop."

A sudden smile lighted Gay's eyes. She said: "That's what I meant about the difference in your voice and Mrs. Halliday's."

"I don't quite—get you."

"I said you wouldn't, didn't I?" Nick grinned.

"I believe you set that trap for me, my dear. But you'll have to admit that her voice is beautiful."

"Oh, I do! But unless there's a beautiful soul behind it— She hesitated, flushed and added: "That may sound foolish, but—"

Gay paused again, and her husband said: "With a tender smile she said: 'Are you implying then, that my soul is superior to my neighbor's?'"

"Yes," answered Gay seriously. "I am. Oh, Nick, I know you'll think me silly, but I do wish you'd be careful how you act with Mrs. Halliday. I don't trust her. Call it jealousy if you like, but it's not that; it's instinct. There! I wish I hadn't said it, though it's been on the end of my tongue for months. I knew 'you'd laugh.'"

"I'm not laughing," he protested, though he was shamelessly and obviously amused. "My mouth just naturally turns up at the corners! But, as I've said before, I don't think you do the woman justice. If she's not happy with Halliday and honestly, I don't think she is, she'd naturally take more interest in other men than would a woman who was satisfied with her own. Don't you believe that, Gay?"

"Perhaps—but there's such a thing as legitimate prey, you know," Nick did laugh now.

"I see. Well—"

"Oh, no you don't!" broke in Gay hurriedly. "You don't see at all. I suppose I'm horrid. Perhaps I'm jealous because I can't sing with you as she can. I've always wished that she could sing. But I'm sorry I said anything if you're misunderstood me."

Her voice trembled, and Nick drew her suddenly close.

"Sometimes, dear old girl, you're just plain foolish. What's a voice, compared with the things that make you take off your shoes and stockings and go wading with a fellow? I don't say I'd want to wade every minute, or that I don't like to see your feet in those smart new pumps you're wearing; but neither could we go through life eternally believing duets. That's right—laugh! If anyone's been idiotic it's the lady in my arms. Won't she admit it?"

"I suppose I am; but somehow, when I watched you tonight and saw how—how terribly attractive you are—"

"Have you just found it out?" Nick arose, laughing, and lifted her with him. "In any case don't let it worry you, because you're the only woman of my acquaintance who's sufficiently astute to discover the pleasing fact. That's a corking moon, my dear. I could sit here all night; but as the sober father of a family that's liable to wake early, I prescribe a few hours of sleep. Let's go up."

It was next morning that Angela's guests departed. Halliday, in an endeavour to appease his wife for what he knew she considered his unpardonable conduct in using her room for little Martha, accompanied them to the station, checked their trunks; and was the genuinely thoughtful host to the last minute. When the train pulled out he walked in silence to the automobile, and assisted Angela to the place beside him.

Worth Of a Good Rain

Is Many Million Dollars If It Comes In Right Season

What is a good rain worth? Computing on the basis of average prices for the past 10 years of North Dakota crops, J. B. Kincer, weather man of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, says one good rain any time from May to August has not been a "million dollar" rain, but a 17 million dollar rain.

Using the rainfall records from May to July, he found that one inch of rainfall in North Dakota produces about six million bushels of barley, nearly three million bushels of oats, nearly one million bushels of potatoes, more than a half million bushels of flaxseed, about nine million bushels of wheat and more than 120 thousand tons of hay, to say nothing of truck garden and other crops.

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—coughing will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

Cruise Around the World

Itinerary of Cunard Line "Franconia" Is Announced

The tentative itinerary for the Cunard Line "Franconia" cruise around the World in 1932, has just been made public in a statement by Arthur Randles, general passenger traffic manager of the Cunard Line in Canada, reveals a list of ports of call of striking diversity and attractiveness from the world cruise standpoint.

The fact that the "Franconia" is large enough for comfort at sea and yet not too large to enter most of the smaller harbours of the world opens a great many ports to her passengers which they would not be able to see were she larger. At the principal ports the "Franconia" is able to tie up to the docks, obviating the necessity of long and tedious rides in tenders from ship to shore.

Perhaps the most important new feature of the next year's cruise of the "Franconia" around the World will be an added port of call at Haifa, with more than three days allowed for her passengers to see the many historic and sacred places in Palestine. The call at Bali will again be an included feature of the "Franconia" cruise, with stops at both Buleleg and Telok Padang planned for the 1932 cruise.

Other outstanding features of the "Franconia" cruise will be calls at Athens, Cap S. Jacques (for visits to Saigon and French Indo-China), Peking (for Bangkok), Macassar in the Celebes, and Chinwangtao (for Peking).

Little Helps For This Week

"Tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope."—Romans v. 3, 4.

Is the road very dreary? Patience wait. Rest will be sweeter if thou art weary.

And after night comes the morning cheer. Just bide a wee and dinna fret! The clouds have silver lining.

Don't forget! And though He's hidden, still the sun is shining.

Courage instead of tears and vain repining. Just bide a wee and dinna fret! "Be patient," said a Scotchman, reprovingly, to his little son.

"What is 'to be patient,' father?" inquired the child.

"Bide a wee and dinna weary," replied the father, with a loving pressure on his shoulder.

How often God's restless children do not wait, and how often they do weary in waiting! Yet He is greatly honored by the trustful spirit, that patiently resigns the unfolding of His inscrutable purposes into His hands; for we know that a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God, of great price.—Anna Shipston.

Perfection Is Scarce

Artists Frequently Use Many Models To Produce Results

Many admirers of magazine covers often wonder how the artists secure such wonderful and perfect models to pose for their work and little do the public know the work required to turn out a beautiful subject. In one of artist Thrasher's famous magazine advertisements it required six different girls to pose for the one girl displayed on the cover. He used one for the perfect arms—one for the perfect limbs—one for the perfect hair—one for the perfect eyes—one for the nose—and another for all around beauty—so too many cooks in this case do not spoil the broth.

The regular monthly meeting of Duffield Women's Institute was held last week, a program of literary and musical selections being given. A schedule of the meetings for the year was drawn up and adopted.

Motorists using the Juper Highway, west of here are complaining of the gravelled roadway being pretty badly cut up at the present time by the heavily laden trucks with the old, narrow tires which are passing over it.

It has arrived—the Yo-Yo Top. Mr J F Clarke having received a consignment of these last week, and the entire first consignment was practically cleared out the first day. The demand has been so great for this top all over the province, there is usually some delay in having the order filled.

The Stony Plain Pharmacy has the Yo-Yo in several sizes and prices; and you are welcome to stop in and see a demonstration of this new and marvelous mechanical wonder.

This top has taken such a hold in Edmonton, that there will be a Yo-Yo contest for boys and girls on the Rialto stage next Saturday morning, April 4th.

New Wrinkles in Preparing Seed for Exhibition.

The Dominion Cerealists gives pointers to producers on planning exhibits. Purity of variety will be an important factor at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held in Regina July 15th to Aug 6th, 1932, where growing tests will be conducted to determine the purity on all cereal exhibits shown.

L H Newman, Dominion Cerealists, and chairman of the awards committee of the 1932 International Grain Exhibition, told producers of Ontario a few days ago that if they hope to capture the top prizes in the competitive classes they should show the purest seed obtainable on a specially prepared piece of land. The crop should be allowed to fully mature; out and shooked, the best stocks being covered from the weather and the best and ripest grains should be knocked out by a flail and saved for the sample to be shown at the Exhibition. "Sieve out the grain carefully to get the most uniform seeds, and finally hand pick the samples for an exhibition of this kind where competition will be keen and the prizes so well worth working for," he said.

What Saith the Exchanges.

Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling! When you have opened a dozen letters beginning "please remit" and then comes one "Enclosed please find five dollars refund on auto license No. 56526."—Leduc Representative.

A Kansas woman has been acquitted of murdering her husband following a dispute at bridge. It appears the gun she had in her hand went off accidentally. If this sort of thing spreads, hostesses will start "frisking" their guests before bringing out the cards.—Edmonton Journal.

"We are surprised that the money you owe us has never reached us," a business house in Edmonton wrote to a fellow in a neighboring town, says the Chinook Advance. And the answer was "Do not be surprised—the money has not been sent!"

Automobile versus Equine.

The appeal of J Yonker, farmer of Leduc district, against the decision of Mr Justice Crawford dismissing his claim for $500 damages against W Servant, Leduc merchant, was not allowed by the appellate division of the Supreme Court, at a recent sitting.

Of interest to motorists, the case aroused considerable interest at its hearings in Leduc, says The Representative. In October 1929 a horse owned by the plaintiff Yonker was struck and fatally injured by an automobile driven by Servant's daughter. Yonker sued Servant for $500 damages, and Servant counter claimed for damages to his auto, stating that the horse had been wandering loose on the highway. Mr Justice Crawford dismissed the action and allowed the counter claim. Yonker appealed the decision, which was heard by the full bench of the Supreme Court, as stated.
